APPEALS AGAINST DEATH SENTENCES FAIL

The appeal by Lam Kai and Chung Kai against their convictions for murder was dismissed yesterday by the Full Court comprising Mr. Justice T. J. Gould (Puisne Judge) and Mr. Justice J. Reynolds (Acting Additional Judge).

An appeal by Chung Ting against his conviction for manslaughter was similarly dismissed.

Mr. A. J. Clifford appeared for the Crown, while the appellants were represented by the Hon. Mr. Leo D'Almeida e Castro, K.C., instructed by Mr. M. A. da Silva.

All three accused were charged with having murdered one Lo Be at Second Street on May 25, in the course of a gang fight.

At the end of their trial before Mr. Justice E. H. Williams (Chief Justice), on Nov. 29, the jury returned a verdict of "Guilty of Murder" against Lam Kai and Chung Kai, who were sentenced to death by Mr. Justice Williams. Chung Tin was found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced to ten years' imprisonment with hard labour.

Subsequently, it was alleged that the jury were not unanimous in regard to the verdict of "Guilty of Murder" against Lam Kai and Chung Kai. An application made to the Full Court for affidavits to be taken from the jurors was dismissed.

Delivering judgment on the appeal, Mr. Justice Gould said in part:

Grounds Of Appeal

The following grounds of appeal were common to all three appellants:

(a) that the trial judge had misdirected and non-directed the jury on matters of fact;

(b) that the trial judge had failed to direct the jury on law as to dissociation from the act causing death and withdrawal from the common design.

A further ground that the verdict was against the weight of evidence was abandoned by counsel at the hearing. The first and third appellants relied also upon a submission that the verdict was wrongly delivered in that it was not a unanimous verdict of the jury. The third appellant also relied upon the ground of wrongful admission of evidence.

Particulars of the alleged misdirection and non-direction were supplied to the Crown and the Court as late as 1 p.m. on Saturday, 21st February, 1948, and the appeal came on for hearing at 10 a.m. on Monday, the 23rd of February. The Court then indicated that had the case not been a capital one, counsel would not have been heard on this ground and now feels constrained once more to repeat that where misdirection is relied upon, full particulars must be given with the Notice of Appeal or as soon as possible thereafter. The Court will not, save in exceptional circumstances, permit any such ground of appeal to be argued before it unless this rule has been observed.

The Particulars

The particulars given in this case are as follows:—

A. As regards all the appellants:

(i) Failed to contrast the evidence of Sze To Kan regarding visibility with the evidence of what Chan Ming Fai and Ho Mui claim to have seen later.

(ii) Failed to draw the attention of the jury to the evidence of Chan Ming Fai given in the Police Court, the depositions being put in at the trial, that the three Appts. walked in the direction of Western St. ahead of the crowd.

B. As regards the 2nd appt.:

(i) Misdirected the jury regarding the importance to be attached to the question whether Chan Ming Fai said the 2nd appt. was carrying a pole or a branch.

(ii) Misdirected the jury when he told them that it was important to note that the 2nd appt. said in the first place that he had been told that his clansman's pocket had been picked and later said he had been told that it was the pocket of a friend of the clansman.

C. As regards the Third appt.:

(i) Misdirected the jury (a) when he said Ho Mui saw the 3rd appellant running by (b) when he failed to contrast her evidence with that of Chan Ming Fai that the three appts. walked past her house.

(ii) Failed to direct the jury to Ho Mui's contradiction of her own evidence as to when she saw the 3rd Appt. going up the steps to Third St.

"Full And Proper"

"Dealing first with the question of direction on matters of fact, the Court is unable to see that any of the matters urged constituted material misdirection or non-direction. The summing-up of the trial judge on the question of visibility was a full and proper one. In the view of the Court, the general direction given by the trial judge on the question of light and visibility is sufficient. The second point raised in the particulars is connected with the submission on the subject of withdrawal from the common design and will be considered with the latter.

"With regard to the last two submissions on matters of fact, there was ample direction in the summing-up as to the discrepancies in the evidence of Chan Ming-fai and Ho Mui.

"If there is a misdirection in the use of the word 'running' instead of 'walking' it is not material, looking at the summing-up as a whole. The learned Judge pointed out the major discrepancies and reminded the jury that their attention had been drawn to others; the jury however were quite entitled, if they thought fit, to accept the evidence of the witness on the main issues, and apparently did so.

"Matters Of Law

"Passing now to the matters of law which have been raised. It is alleged in the first place that there was a lack of direction on the law as to withdrawal from the common design. As to the first and third appellants, the Court is unable to see that the question arises at all. Their case was that they were never present—not that they started out and withdrew as the second appellant claimed. Counsel for the appellants pointed to a passage in the deposition of Chan Ming Fai (which is said to have been put in evidence though there is no note to that effect) where he said 'All three defendants walked towards Western St., as being consistent with withdrawal. In the opinion of the Court, it is clear on the reading of the whole passage that the witness meant that this happened after the attack on Lo Be. That is what he stated in as many words before the Supreme Court and it does not appear that the different meaning now attached to his words in the lower Court was put to him. As regards the second appellant the trial judge, in his summing-up, said: 'If, gentlemen, you consider that he took the wood, then got cold feet, he is not participating, aiding and abetting.' This passage, together with the detailed exposition of the law as to common purpose given earlier in the summing-up, is a sufficient direction.

"Police Questions

"The basis of the submission that evidence was wrongly admitted is the fact that the trial judge received in evidence the replies of the third appellant to certain questions put to him by a detective. The questions were not prefaced by a caution and were put immediately before the accused was taken into custody. Counsel argued that accused was in effect in custody at the time, though not formally apprehended, and that one of the questions was in the nature of a trap.

"The Court feels impelled to comment that if the situation in Voisin's case (Rex v. Voisin) is not to be regarded as a trap, the circumstances of the present case were no less fair to the accused. The judgment in Voisin's case later indicated that the absence of a caution 'may be, and often is, a ground for a judge in his discretion excluding the evidence; but he should do so only if he thinks the statement was not voluntary or was an unguarded answer made under some circumstances which rendered it unreliable, or unfair for some reason to be allowed in evidence against the prisoner.' It is sufficient to say that in the present case the Court agrees with the mode in which the trial judge has exercised his discretion, and it is to be noted, in view of the authorities to the effect that the absence of a caution has a bearing on the question of weight, that the learned judge twice indicated to the jury his view that this evidence was not of great importance.

"Lack Of Unanimity

"The decision of the Court on the matter of the alleged lack of unanimity of the jury has already been delivered and no evidence within the limits indicated by that decision having been brought or tendered, it is not deemed necessary to re-open the matter. Counsel for the appellants did submit that the Court should act upon that part of the report of the learned trial judge which is mentioned in the decision of this Court delivered on the 19th February and order a new trial. It is a surprising contention, and one which the Court cannot accept, that whereas the Court cannot, in the circumstances of the case accept from the juror himself a statement that he did not assent to the verdict, it can act upon the evidence of another to whom the juror made that statement.

"The submissions on behalf of the appellants fail and leave to appeal is refused."

Tug Reaches Stranded "Kien Sing"

Salvage operations on the grounded 6,000-ton Chinese freighter "Kien Sing" at Chiling Point were started yesterday morning, the "China Mail" learned authoritatively last night.

The salvage tug, "Caroline Moller" reached the "Kien Sing" at 11 a.m. from Shanghai. Grounded in heavy fog some 80 miles northeast of Hong Kong on Saturday morning, the "Kien Sing" has been damaged as a result of being swept on the rocks by tide and wind.

Another Chinese vessel, "Hui Sing" carrying cargo and passengers went aground six hours after leaving Canton yesterday for Kwong Chow Wan.

The local agents, Messrs. Tak Kee and Company, said the 600-ton ship was not in danger. The captain had cabled that it would be possible to for the ship to refloat itself at high tide.

During the past few days, the local vernacular press has persistently reported that additional restrictions in the water supply are imminent.

Mr. Justice Williams ruled against Mr. Loseby, who opened his case by calling Lo Kwan-ho, private teacher. Lo said that he had studied the "Four Books" and "Five Classics." He had been a teacher in the interior for over 20 years. He was also a writer and lecturer. The words "Ho Chu See Nung Ka" meant "Where is my home." The Chinese word "Ka" could either mean a family or final resting spot. It could also be used to denote "house." On the other hand, it could be used in an exclamatory sense.

Its use was not limited to rich or poor. Chinese in Hong Kong, when referring to China, could also make use of the word. The phrase "Ho Chu See Nung Ka" was quite common in the written language. Lo said that although it was impossible to find such a phrase in books, it was very common in the newspapers. He had lost all his own books during the Japanese Occupation. Lo asserted that the plaintiff could not claim that the phrase was original.

Re-examined, Fung said that he never intended to sell his rights in "Ho Chu See Nung Ka" when he handed over the copy to the theatrical party. Hearing was then adjourned till Apr. 9, at 2.30 p.m. to enable Mr. Loseby to arrange for the attendance of Sit Kok-sin, who was stated to be in Canton at the present moment.

Three Issues

After opening the case for the plaintiff, Mr. Griffiths said that the issues in dispute had been reduced to three. Firstly, whether the words of the title "Ho Chu See Nung Ka" were original or not. Secondly, whether there was a payment in respect of "Chai Kiu Long Kang Kiu." Thirdly, the question of damages. Dealing with the question of damages, Mr. Griffiths said that on an infringement of copyright, it was not necessary to prove special damages. Hong Kong was a small place and the fact of showing a play on the films here would be to exhaust its value in Hong Kong. This was a material point to consider when assessing damages. Mr. Griffiths then submitted that from the state of the pleadings, the onus was on the defendant to begin the case.

Mr. Loseby, who argued that it was not for him to open the case, said that his principal witness, Sit Kok-sin, was in Canton.

Copyright Claim World Theatre Sued By Author

Hearing of an action by Fung Chi-tun (plaintiff) against The World Theatre (defendants) for alleged infringement of the copyright in the title of two Chinese dramatic works opened before Mr. Justice E. H. Williams (Chief Justice), yesterday.

On the application of Mr. F. H. Loseby, for the defendants, hearing was adjourned to enable the defence to call Sit Kok-sin, leading Chinese stage and screen actor, to testify regarding an alleged payment of $200.

Mr. P. J. Griffiths, of Messrs. Wilkinson & Grist, appeared for plaintiff.

Plaintiff claimed to be the author and owner of the copyright in the title of two dramatic works entitled "Chai Kiu Long Kang Kiu" and "Ho Chu See Nung Ka."

The defendants, had infringed the plaintiff's copyright in the title of the said works by performing or authorizing or procuring the performance, in public, of a cinematograph film theatre, namely, The World or New World or Sun-Sai-Kai, on the 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11 June 1947 and 7, 8, 9 and 12 December 1947 respectively.

The said films bore the same title as that of the two works mentioned. Both the said works consisted of dialogue and songs in the Cantonese dialect of the Chinese language. The dialogue and songs of the said films are also in the Cantonese dialect of the Chinese language.

The plaintiff therefore claimed damages or alternatively an account of profits and further or other relief, as well as costs. In order to bring the case within the Summary Jurisdiction, plaintiff limited his claim to $1,000.

Fifteen Arabs Killed In Latest Terror Raid

Heavy Fighting Follows

Jerusalem, Mar. 3.
A 15 hundredweight lorry, loaded with 400 pounds of explosives, blew up outside a block of Arab flats, killing 15 Arabs and injuring 27 other Arabs in Stanton Street, in the business centre of Haifa today.

Police headquarters stated that the blast tore down sections of the block of flats, partly destroyed a building formerly used as an Arab boys' remand school, and damaged other buildings, including the police district headquarters, 200 yards away.

Tribute To China's Air Force

Shanghai, Mar. 4.
Tribute to Chinese air pilots was given by Major-General Claire Chennault, wartime commander of the "Flying Tigers," in an open forum talk last night entitled "The Bravest Men I Ever Knew."

Drawing upon his large store of knowledge of both Chinese and American pilots, General Chennault recalled the years of the China warfare before the recent World War began.

"The heroes of those days," he said, "were all Chinese pilots, who were as brave and courageous as any men in the world."

General Chennault cited Lieutenant Gau, who brought down three Japanese bombers in three days for the small Chinese Air Force, and who was killed while attempting to attack a force of 27 Japanese bombers, single-handed.—Reuter.

Haganah Radio said tonight that the British League of Ex-Servicemen had acknowledged in a written statement responsibility for the Ben Yehuda Street explosion of Feb. 22, in which more than 50 Jews were killed.

The League is one of the British Fascist groups which joined up with Sir Oswald Mosley's Union Party in January this year.—Reuter.

Partition Plan Again Denounced

Jerusalem, Mar. 3.
Eleven Christian communities today joined in denouncing the partition plan, which they blamed for the "lamentable situation" in the Holy Land.

The heads of the communities, which represent an estimated 100,000 Christians and Moslems, issued a joint statement from the precincts of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre here.

It was the first official public declaration of Arab unity between Christians and Moslems on the partition question.

Addressed to all world religions and political bodies, the statement expressed "deep sorrow and strong indignation at the lamentable situation in which the Holy Land has been placed as a direct result of the erroneous policy which has been imposed on the country and which has culminated in partition."

"It is our firm conviction that peace will not be restored nor will any endeavours made for the promotion of peace in Jerusalem be crowned with success unless those bodies who undertake the determination of the future of Palestine remove the cause which has made a battlefield of the Holy Land, re-establish the principle of justice and maintain the right of self-determination as envisaged by the United Nations Charter," the statement said.

No War Says Dimitrov

Belgrade, Mar. 3.
M. Georgi Dimitrov, the Bulgarian Prime Minister, told the Congress of the General Federation of Trade Unions in Sofia that he did not believe a new world war was imminent. Tanjug, the Yugoslav news agency, reported today.

"There are adventures who invite a new world war," M. Dimitrov said, "but it is obvious to anyone with the slightest knowledge of the international situation that a new world war is not imminent."—Reuter.

Quake Recorded In N.Y.

New York, Mar. 3.
An earthquake, described as fairly severe, was recorded on the Fordham University seismograph today.

The Rev. Joseph Lynch said the first shock was registered at 9.28 a.m. GMT, and the second at 9.40 a.m. GMT.

This is equivalent to 5.28 HK Time, approximately when the local tremors were felt.

The distance was estimated at 8,000 miles from New York, but the direction was undetermined.

At Weston, Massachusetts, the Rev. Daniel J. Linehan, of the Boston College Seismograph Station, placed the earthquake in the Southern Philippines.

He described it as about half as strong as the one recorded for that area yesterday and said it was probably an after-shock.—Reuter.

Britain Not Going To Be Kicked Around

Lords Debate On Foreign Policy

The "Communist overthrow of Czechoslovakia" was denounced by Lord Pakenham, speaking for the Government, tonight as "Hitlerite in technique and utterly damnable in every way."

He was replying to a debate on foreign affairs in the House of Lords, in which the opening speaker, the Marquess of Salisbury, had set the tone by declaring that Russian policy had shown a "new and sinister side" in "snapping up Bulgaria, Rumania, Czechoslovakia, Poland and Hungary."

Lord Pakenham, Minister responsible for British administration in Germany, said it was obvious that the "plot against Czechoslovakia was prepared some time ago," and added: "Now Finland is being approached — embraced with the kiss of death."

Lord Pakenham said the Finns "were invited to Bluebeard's mansion to inspect their predecessors' remains — a sad prospect."

The Communists were convinced, Lord Pakenham said, "that we are being driven to desire their overthrow and they believe that our whole system is fundamentally defective and unworkable and doomed, he fore long, to collapse and give place to their own."

"How can the world be saved from Communism without war, as we could not save it from Nazism without war?"

Last Resort

"The first answer lies in the sphere of defence, and every vitally necessary it is. But if that were the whole answer, what a prospect we should be facing."

"Surely there must be a brighter vista than that. I believe there is. We must spare no effort to live in charity with Russia."

In the last resort, we shall succeed or fail in affecting the mentality of her rulers and of her satellites by the way we succeed or fail ourselves in those areas still under the control of free nations."

One moral to be drawn from these "depressing events" was that organisations, whether governments, trade unions or any other kinds, should not let Communists join them — otherwise sooner than later they would be eaten up."

Below The Belt

The Communists' great advantage was their "utter unscrupulousness." They hit below the belt when dealing with their opponents.

"If the unfortunate Czech democracy could extract any consolation it would have to be found in the fact that their tragic experience was a less excuse for countries outside the direct menace to allow their democracies to be overturned by dangerous minorities within."

The events in Czechoslovakia last week must accelerate the steps being taken to build up the economy of Western Europe and provide it with an adequate defence. The Brussels conversations were not only significant in themselves but in what it was hoped they would eventually lead to.

Iron Mask

Lord Pakenham said the United Nations was the only channel through which there was much hope of emerging from the present "international purgatory."

"We all agree that British rights shall be respected whether in the Americas, Hong-kong, or anywhere else. Those who think the time has come when we can be kicked around with impunity are making the mistake of their lives."

The relations of the Western world with Soviet Russia were the most formidable problem of the age.

"The answer to the question whether we solve it successfully will decide whether we and our children and many millions in Britain and Europe will live out our lives in peace."

"The man behind the iron curtain is also the man with the iron mask."

Schuman Praised

Paris, Mar. 3. The Cabinet meeting here today congratulated M. Robert Schuman, the Premier, on "his firm efforts" to restore France's economy.

They declared their willingness to carry out energetically his programme to ensure public order, his battle against inflation and rising prices, and his plans to increase production.

A communique issued after the meeting refuted rumours of impending changes in the Cabinet.

At a press conference after the meeting, a Government spokesman declared that a conference was expected to be held either at Brussels or The Hague to decide France's future relations with the Benelux countries.—Reuter.

PACKING STRIKE

Chicago, Mar. 3. A nationwide strike of 100,000 meat-packing workers was called today for March 16.

The United Packing House Workers' Congress of Industrial Organizations, led by the nation's meat industry in 1946 and called the strike only after the Government had

Britain Armed For Any Emergency

The Foreign Secretary, Mr. Ernest Bevin, told the House of Commons today that Britain had sufficient strength "on the spot" to preserve the integrity of British Honduras and to look after British interests in the dispute with Guatemala.

"I have offered to settle this business, but if there is to be a threat to take force in the life, it is His Majesty's Government's duty, apart from the merit of the case, to take the necessary steps," he said.

The Foreign Secretary said he had been advised by the Ministry of Defence that there was sufficient strength on the spot to preserve the integrity of British Honduras.

Mr. E. Hughes, Labour asked Mr. Bevin if he was aware the despatch of cruisers to the colony had resulted in a demonstration by the British.

Mr. Bevin replied that the British ships were sent to British Honduras "after rumours that certain elements in Guatemala were attempting to seize the colony."

Warship Loan To China

London, Mar. 3. Britain will shortly lend to the Chinese Government the cruiser Aurora and the destroyer Mendip, Mr. John Dugdale, Financial Secretary to the Admiralty, told the House of Commons today.

He said that Britain had already lent the Chinese Government the corvette Petunia and eight harbour defence launches.

Two submarines yet to be selected would be lent to them later.

One thousand Chinese officers and ratings had, so far, been trained by British instructors to form crews for the ships.—Reuter.

The Wrong Parson

Winchester, Mar. 3. The Winchester police sent out a flying squad and detained the Rev. John Allen and then found that he was not the "Mad Parson," but the new Curate of St. Augustine's, Bourne-mouth.

He was detained because someone reported that he had seen John Allen, who escaped from Broadmoor last July.

The Rev. Allen said today: "I had been to see the Bishop of Winchester to receive his licence and while waiting for a train, I was approached by the police. I was asked to produce my identity card, but I had not got it with me. A call was put through to the Bishop, who was able to identify me."—Reuter.

Britain's Strong Protest

London, Mar. 3. Britain has protested "energetically and strongly" against what are described as "disgraceful occurrences" in Guatemala City yesterday. Owing to the local censorship, the incidents, which "were" part of an anti-British demonstration, had not hitherto been described in detail.

Britain's note, released by the Foreign Office tonight, was handed to the Guatemalan Foreign Minister yesterday by the British Minister, Mr. W. H. Gallene.

It reads: "I have the honour to protest energetically and strongly against the disgraceful occurrences that have taken place this afternoon."

"Large crowds assembled before the Chancery of His Majesty's Legation, climbed up the windows, affixed insulting placards, climbed over the roofs, twice hoisted the Guatemalan flag on the official flagstaff of His Majesty's Legation, took it down and hoisted another flag, designed to be offensive, threw stones, made violently anti-British speeches, and shouted threats at the Government and people I have the honour to represent."

Did Nothing

"The Guatemalan Government was well aware that this demonstration was planned; on Feb. 25 I asked that hostile demonstrations outside His Majesty's Legation should be prevented in accordance with established practice in almost every other country in the world."

Cyprus Shooting Incident

Kyrenia, Mar. 3.

Four men were wounded when the police fired on strikers at the American-owned Mavrovouni copper mines in Cyprus who tried to attack "blacklegs" today, according to an official communique issued here.

Six policemen and one inspector were injured in the clash. The workers have been on strike since mid-January demanding wage increases and a 40-hour week. Demands are being made for solidarity strikes with the miners and trade union sympathy meetings have been held in all parts of the island.

Banners declaring "Cyprus is not an American colony" have appeared.

The newly-formed Consultative Assembly has been asked to force the British Government to intercede.

Many arrests at the mines have followed three separate attempts to all officials with dynamite. Sixty inmates of the Nicosia Central Prison have been on a hunger strike since Friday and were called to a conference (reportedly) by the British Government.

GLIMPSES OF THE STARS: The British Scene Round Hollywood

Just to prove that time doesn't lie heavy on his hands, Britain's youngest director, Peter Ustinov, who directed the Two Cities comedy "Vice Versa," has written four plays which are now ready to open in London. In addition, he is going to act opposite film star Joan Greenwood in a stage play adapted from the Swedish film, "Frenzy."

Dennis Price has become so used to limping in his part as The Bad Lord Byron that he now breaks into a hobble in the street. "First of all I had to stuff paper into my shoes to remember," he told me. "Now I can't get out of it. People keep coming up to me and asking me if I fell down a rabbit hole."

Jean Kent's handsome husband, Yusuf Ramaret, who deals in wholesale store goods, told me "Every time business is dull I make a picture. I have accepted a part in 'Queen of Spades' to help out my business." Jean Kent thinks the idea is fun, and wants a tiny five-minute role with him in the film, but the Rank Organisation thinks the part is too tiny for her star prestige.

British films benefited from Hollywood's discovery of a new English "Screen Find," 17-year-old, ravishingly beautiful Patricia Goddard. A Hollywood scout got her signature to a contract a year ago. Since then Patricia has been waiting for them to call her.

Because Hollywood is not sending new films to Britain, they've shelved her contract. So British National grabbed lovely Patricia and are starring her opposite Michael Rennie in "Uncanny Terms."

Loretta Young goes all blonde for the first time in her new film "The Farmer's Daughter."

Doing Jules Verne Next

RALPH RICHARDSON whisks from one film to another with staggering speed; after finishing "Lost Illusions"—on which for some time he was working concurrently with "Anna Karenina"—he will star for London Films in a technicolour version of the Jules Verne story, "Round the World in Eighty Days." Casting News: Derek Bond is playing Captain Oates in Ealing's "Scott of the Antarctic." David Farrar goes into "Mr. Perrin and Mr. Traill," to be directed by Lawrence Huntington. Swedish star, Mai Zetterling, who made such a hit in "Frida," has returned to England to go into "The Bad Lord Byron," opposite Dennis Price. Here's the full cast of "Esther Waters," the film version of George Moore's famous Victorian novel which is being made by Wessex Film Productions: Irish lovely Kathleen Ryan has the title role with newcomer Dick Bogarde. William, Fay Compton as Mrs. Barfield, top-line character actress Mary Clare as Mrs. Latch and Cyril Cusack who was one of the good cast of "Odd Man Out," playing Fred Parsons.

Talking of Fay Compton, she's dividing herself in half these days... when she is not playing the "Esther Waters" she's over on another lot at Restaurant on Vine-street... the Cornet Wildes are back together and go to New York soon to do a play... Mark Stevens' wife, Annette, has accompanied the actor to Washington where he is filming "The Street With No Name," apparently forgiving him for the Kedy Lamarr romantic interlude.

Good news: Jean Arthur has returned to films, playing at Paramount with Marlene Dietrich and John Lund in "A Foreign Affair."

It appears that Roland Culver is due for a long stay in Hollywood. He will appear in "Father's Day," the tale of a Confederate Army Colonel and his struggles to raise three lovely daughters on a small income. Daughters: Veronica Lake, Mary Hatcher and Mona Freeman.

Greer Garson definitely gets comedy for her next film, "Julia Misbehaves," and MGM would have you believe that in one scene she will sing a number hanging by her knees from a trapeze wire.

At the pre-wedding party for Roy Rogers and Dale Evans, the bride-to-be turned up before the two hundred guests. She wore a red velvet cow-girl outfit and Rogers had a new white doekin suit.

Alice Faye, who makes a nice living with her husband Phil Harris on their weekly radio show, is now being sought for the lead in "Glittering Hill," a saga of the Montana gold-rush days.

Thirty minutes' running time have been cut from "Mourning Becomes Electra," Rosalind Russell's independent producing venture. Originally it ran for three hours.

Flashing swords, galloping steeds and bold men: high-light "The Swordsman" showing next week.

SHADOWS BEFORE

THE SWORDSMAN (King's)
Stars: Larry Parks and Ellen Drew.

Story: Placed against a Scottish background in the 18th century, and the rivals of the clan. Apart from the fact that it follows the tradition of the termination of a feud through the final marriage of the two principals, it is meaty stuff and the plot is kept continuously moving. Ellen Drew makes a completely satisfying heroine, and Larry Parks carries a dashing role skilfully.

UNCLE SILAS (Queen's)
Story: Jean Simmons, Katina Paxinou and Derrick de Marney.

CARRIBLIE HALL (Log)
Stars: Sonja Henie, the Norwegian figure skater, and a number of other stars.

Story: A story of a young girl who embarks on a political career. Might be termed a "dramatic comedy" containing as it does something of both. Charles Bickford assumes the principal comedy role as "Sam," a "bribe" broker. The story moves along at a merry clip from the instant the girl steps out of the big city into the small town, and a moment later is right through through it walk and play or sing, most of the aristocracy of music including vocalists Lily Pons, Rise Stevens, Elio Pinza and Jar Peerce, together with the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra with such conductors as Bruno Walter, Fritz Reiner, Artur Rodzinski and Leopold Stokowski. Hefetz plays and so does Artur Schnabel. Most of the scenes were shot either on the stage or in the vast auditorium of Carnegie Hall. Coupled with the "documentary" of the Hall and its musical triumphs, is a story played by Hollywood stars, Marsha Hunt et al. of failures, perseverance and success which rounds off one of the most inspiring pictures for music-lovers of all time. It has been described as the greatest concert ever screened, and this is no exaggeration.

Incidentally, there is to be a gala showing on March 23 at 9.30 P.M. at the La Scala Theatre in aid of the Society for the Protection of Children.

THE FARMER'S DAUGHTER (King's)
Stars: Loretta Young, Joseph Cotton, Shari Harnham.

Story: Of a young girl who embarks on a political career. Might be termed a "dramatic comedy" containing as it does something of both. Charles Bickford assumes the principal comedy role as "Sam," a "bribe" broker. Gold Sales Now Final Recourse

Washington, Mar. 3. Britain has exhausted her $3,750 million loan from the United States, the Treasury announced here today. The final $100 million was withdrawn on Monday, it was stated.

The money, originally expected to last Britain from three to five years, held out only 19 months. The credits were used at an average of nearly $200 million monthly.

The loan agreement, signed by President Truman on July 15, 1946, provided that Britain must begin repaying the money on Dec. 31, 1951, and complete yearly payments over a 50-year period unless the United States granted waivers.

The annual payment would amount to about $140 million. The agreement provides that the United States must waive interest payments upon a British request "in any year" if the World Monetary Fund certified that Britain's income from its exports and such service to foreigners as insurance and shipping receipts falls below the minimum Britain needs to pay for "essential imports."

Still Losing

Reuters Financial Editor writes: Instead of the five years which the United States credit was originally intended to cover, the loan has lasted 19 months and has ended with Britain still owing gold and dollars at the rate of more than $250 million per year.

Treasury officials frankly stated last December that the $400 million then remaining "would reduce, but not obviate, the monthly gold sales which are Britain's final recourse for meeting her dollar deficit."

Confirming this prediction, the gross gold sales in the three months since have approximately equalled the monthly $100 million drawings from the loan—Reuters.
